

Purchase agreement between M-U-T and Steyr Automotive signed

- "M-U-T" brand to be retained
- First superstructures in Steyr still in July

With the signing of the purchase agreement last Wednesday, Steyr Automotive's intention to acquire the vehicle construction business of M-U-T Maschinen-Umwelttechnik-Transportanlagen, announced at the end of March 2023, was contractually sealed. Within a few weeks, agreement was reached in very swift negotiations on which parts of M-U-T's vehicle construction business will go to Steyr Automotive.

The "M-U-T" brand will remain and will be transferred to Steyr Automotive. "We are very pleased that we are handing over our vehicle construction business with the certainty that it will go into qualified and professional hands and that the top quality from Austria that our customers in the municipal sector are used to will continue to be maintained in Austria," says Managing Director of M-U-T-GmbH Bernhard List.

Product and competence growth in special vehicle construction

"The demand-oriented adaptation of standard truck types and the production of modern special bodies for waste collection as well as for street and sewer cleaning fits perfectly into our competence profile," says Johann Ecker, spokesman for the management of Steyr Automotive.

Relocation of production to Steyr

The relocation of the assembly activities from M-U-T in Stockerau to Steyr and the start of production are planned for July. For many of the employees at M-U-T in Stockerau, future career prospects could be worked out, and most of the jobs will be retained.
